

SVALBARD IN WINTER, THE GEOGRAPHIC NORTH POLE ARCHIPELAGO

Adventure trip on the Spistbergen snowy island

We leave behind more than three months of complete darkness. The sun rises again in the ancient settlement of Longyearbyen, where the daytime is getting longer. At the end of April, the midnight sun remains visible for the full 24 hours till the end of August.

The trip takes place in Svalbard, an archipelago located in the Arctic Ocean, where we can enjoy of a dogsledding route through the wintry landscapes of the island, we descend into the ice, enter into a fascinating cave and we make a snowmobile route around Longyearbyen.
